Guardians of Health Freedom: A Deep Dive with Jonathan Emord

written by Dr. Ronald Hoffman | June 10, 2025

In this episode of the Intelligent Medicine podcast, Dr. Ronald Hoffman interviews constitutional attorney Jonathan Emord. They discuss Emord's extensive career advocating for health freedom, focusing on natural health products and constitutional law. Emord explains the legal battles and regulatory challenges faced by the natural health industry, particularly against the FDA and FTC. He highlights victories like the overturning of Chevron and recent successes in court that have implications for the natural products industry. The conversation also covers the impact of COVID-19 on health regulations and the ongoing efforts to secure truthful health information for consumers.
