Winter is almost here and so are the health threats that it brings, so now is the time to start preparing your immune system to protect you all winter long.

Today, more than ever, your good health is constantly under attack by everything that winter brings. Sometimes you feel like you can't leave your house because of all the tiny, invisible threats that are coughed or sneezed at you, and with most health experts predicting that this winter will be just as severe as last winter, now would be a good time to become SUPER- IMMUNE...

How can you get your immune system into peak performance, fast? You can start with the basics such as eating well, exercising, getting plenty of sleep, doing your best to avoid alcohol, and—of course—NO smoking. However, all of this is probably still not enough to prepare our immune systems for the long battle ahead.

Your immune system will need a much bigger boost to maintain your good health. It needs something powerful, fast-acting, and proven to work. It needs ImmPower.

ImmPower is made from a scientifically advanced mushroom extract from Japan called AHCC that super-charges your immune system like nothing else because it boosts the most important part of your immune system: your Natural Killer cells, or NK cells.*

What are Natural Killer cells or NK cells? They are the most powerful, invader-killing cells in your body. Scientists discovered that your immune system's very first line of defense is this special type of white blood cell because they are literally born to kill! They constantly patrol your body for any abnormal or invading cells that, if left alone, can thrive in your body and destroy your health.

And even better, scientists unlocked the secret of using NK cells in your defense.

When you arm your body's NK cells and keep them strong, they go to work immediately and around the clock for you. They can quickly identify invader cells and inject them with cytotoxic granules that cause them to literally explode.

That's what ImmPower does for you—it enhances your NK Cells so they are "super-charged"!

So now, with ImmPower, instead of being vulnerable to every threat to your health you come in contact with, while in your home or out in public, you will be chock full of potent, fighting NK cells.*

ImmPower also helps to support other important parts of your immune system, including:

- Enhancing optimal T-cell response: T-cells are a key part of your immune system that focus on specific foreign particles. Strong T-cells circulate until they encounter a specific antigen and attack—playing a critical part in your defense and immunity.*

- Boosting Macrophage response: Macrophages are a special type of white blood cell that help eliminate sickness-causing foreign substances by engulfing them and initiating an immune response to get rid of it for you. This important internal process must be armed and ready to go all the time.*

Most importantly, ImmPower has fast-become the #1 immune system supplement for people who want to be “Super Immune”—because not only does it work fast, but it is backed by some of the best research you will find on an all-natural immune system booster*. More than 80 published research papers written by some of the world’s leading scientists and medical doctors proves its efficacy and safety.

With the cold weather on its way and the holidays just around the corner, don’t wait until it’s too late. Remember, you’re only as strong as your immune system.
